

Project Objective Statement: To redesign and build a product similar to the Qube 2. Our product should be easily manufacturable and repairable, able to be upgraded in the future, work on with the latest Matlab software and over various types of computer hardware, and a tool that can be used to reliability teach students control systems